2022 Exhibition Highlights

1. Professional Vertical Exhibition Platform

The exhibition enables you to navigate the niche markets of industrial lubricants, metalworking fluids and surface cleaning solutions effectively, and can provide you with an efficient way to engage in productive face-to-face discussion and boost your supply chain relations.

2. Numerous Events Held Concurrently

The show hosts a full conference platform alongside the exhibition, bringing together a summit, technical seminars and training courses that can equip you with valuable knowledge on the latest industry trends and technological developments.

3. OEM / ODM Pavilion

The exhibition incorporates a dedicated pavilion for local lubricant companies (about 10-15 units) with OEM / ODM production capacity. The special showcase brings you even more evident partnership advantages, covering service areas concentrating on production, technology, logistical storage and marketing promotion. Business matchmaking is organized for both brand owners and local OEM/ODM providers in both online and offline forms.

4. Imported Lubricant Oil Brands Pavilion

The show also hosts a high-profile pavilion for imported lubricant oil brands to meet the demand from professional lubricant dealers and agencies here in China. It provides a very effective way for you to screen and select the broad variety of distribution channels in China's domestic market.
